ELQI Book Study: “It’s OK NOT to Share” by Heather Shumaker

Wednesdays: September 18, 25, October 2, 9, 16 *virtual/in-person

For this book study, we will discuss how this book connects to our work with children and families. A reading/discussion schedule and reflective questions will be shared with participants before our first discussion.

We will have opportunities to discuss what we read, how what we read impacts our work, and if there is anything we read that doesn't align with our values or practices. We will also have opportunities to reflect on the purpose of rules and how they can have an impact on the children and educators in the program.

You can read more about this book here: https://www.goodreads.com/book/show/13543178-it-s-ok-not-to-share-and-other-renegade-rules-for-raising-competent-and?from_search=true&from_srp=true&qid=1pG9uDp4pL&rank=1

Registration closes: Thursday, September 5th at 12:00 pm (noon)

*If you want your copy of the book in August, please ensure you register and request a copy of the book by August 19; any book requests received after this time will not be processed until the week of September 3rd.

In this children's book study, we will come together to read and discuss titles from the Indigenous category in the Travelling Tales Library. There is no reading required ahead of time; you can attend to hear the stories and join the discussion about the books we read together. We will make connections to the impact these books could have in our work. Additional resources will be available to borrow from the ELQI and Travelling Tales Libraries.
